

Safety Symbol Matching Cards

Possible uses to energize and activate prior knowledge.

Ice Breaker Game (this is how I use them): Break a larger class into groups of 8. Give each student one card out of the matching card set. Have the students talk to each person in their group of 8 and see if they can find the person with the correct match. Once they have the correct match they can talk quietly with their partner and get to know them a little better (perhaps you could have them a specific topic or event etc...). Several rounds could be played if desired.

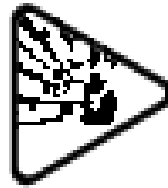

Plain old fashion matching: Provide sets of cards to smaller groups and get them to match some of or all of the cards in the set.
